

Student Copy Scenarios for Teacher and Student Isolation

1. If you are isolating and ILL.

- Liaise with the teacher, as normal about missed work.
- You must catch up on the work missed when you are better.

2. If your full class are isolating and NOT ILL.

- Your teacher will teach your lessons via Teams. You will learn as if a remote lesson.
- You MUST be available at the start of every lesson for Teams, with your video on, microphone muted and earphones on.
- You are STILL RESPONSIBLE for attending the lesson. You will be chased if you are NOT UNWELL and MISSING a Teams lesson.
- Your teacher will be recording instances where students do not access their online learning when not unwell and giving out behaviour points.

3. If SOME of your class are isolating and SOME are in school.

- Your teacher will teach using a BLENDED approach.
- Teachers will have every student logged into Teams - even those who are at school. This means those at home can hear everyone when discussions and class answers are being shared.
- ALL STUDENTS need to bring headphones and a fully charged laptop to school every day, in case this instance occurs. If you don't, the sound may glitch, making it difficult for you to hear the teacher/each other.
- You are STILL RESPONSIBLE for attending the lesson if you are isolating at home. You will be chased if you are NOT UNWELL and MISSING a Teams lesson.
- Your teacher will be recording instances where students do not access their online learning when not unwell and giving out behaviour points.

4. If your teacher is absent and you have a cover teacher.

- If your teacher is unwell and unable to teach a lesson on Teams remotely, you will either have work set in advance/on Firefly or via a cover teacher.
- Otherwise, you will have a Teams lesson.
- You MUST:
  - Get into the habit of logging onto Teams and checking Firefly every day in case your teacher is absent.
  - Bring a set of headphones to school every day, in case this occurs.
- Be prepared at the start of a Teams lesson with the following:
  - You must ALL log onto Teams with your individual laptop (fully charged)
  - Your video on (for register and safeguarding purposes)
  - Your microphone muted
  - Your headphones in.

5. If you are a Sixth Form student whose teacher is absent.

- If your teacher is unwell, you will have work set directly to you (via Firefly, for example).
- Otherwise, you will have a Teams lesson.
- Speak to your teacher about their expectations. There are some rules below that you MUST adhere to.
- In this scenario, you are expected to:
  - Use the same classroom as your set lesson.
  - Log on to Teams at the start of the lesson to await the call.
  - Have your video on but your sound muted.
  - Have a set of headphones to hear the call without any sound glitches.
  - If you are not visible on the call, you cannot be marked present.
  - Teachers will not record lessons conducted on Teams.
